

SURVIVAL ROAD RPG

THE ENDLESS CARAVAN

Your vehicle is your moving base.

Carry your crew, resources, and humanity's last chance through a world that won't let you stop.

SEEKING $315K FOR FULL PRODUCTION

— YOU CARRY THE CITY WITH YOU

Not a settlement. A community on wheels.

Players lead a mobile community of survivors across a collapsing world. The vehicle is not just transport — it is shelter, upgrade hub, and lifeline. Every route is a risk. Every stop is a decision. Losing the vehicle means losing the run.

“You are not defending a city.
You are carrying it with you.”

— A WORLD WORTH REMEMBERING

Survival is no longer enough.

A spreading fog erases memory itself — knowledge, identity, and any chance to rebuild. A doctor traveling with the caravan works toward a vaccine that could weaken its effect.

BEFORE THE FOG

A living civilization.

Memory built shared purpose, knowledge, and the possibility of moving forward.

AFTER THE FOG

A future at risk.

If the caravan fails, humanity loses more than lives — it loses its future.

— CORE FANTASY

Keep a fragile community alive long enough to reach what still matters.

- ◆ Mobile survival instead of static settlement play.
- ◆ Strategic movement through a dangerous world.
- ◆ Survival pressure with long-term progression.

— RECOGNIZABLE, NEVER GENERIC

A neon wasteland with fragile safe havens.

Rust, desert decay, glowing infrastructure, and neon road networks. The world is hostile — but never visually forgettable.

— THE GAMEPLAY LOOP

Each journey is shaped by risk, scarcity, and the need to keep rolling.

01

Travel

Fuel burns, time ticks, weather turns.

02

Choose route

Fast and deadly, or slow and safer.

03

Stop / explore

Garages, camps, ruins, outposts.

04

Fight or scavenge

Card-based combat or loot runs.

05

Upgrade

Vehicle, team, equipment, tech.

06

Push further

Deeper into the unknown map.

WORLD MAP — ROUTE PLANNING

EVERY CHOICE COMPOUNDS ►

— EVERY STOP BUYS TIME. EVERY MISTAKE COSTS MOMENTUM.

Two layers of pressure, always in play.

Players balance fuel, food, repairs, team recovery, and route planning. Safe stops offer upgrades and recovery, but time and supplies remain limited. The vehicle is the core fail condition.

WITHIN A RUN

Tactical — moment to moment.

- ◆ Route choices
- ◆ Resource management
- ◆ Team survival
- ◆ Combat outcomes

BETWEEN RUNS

Strategic — meta progression.

- ◆ New unlocks
- ◆ Stronger future attempts
- ◆ Better long-term options
- ◆ Persistent world changes

— PROTOTYPE COMBAT DIRECTION

Heroes, roles, and synergy — with the road still burning beneath them.

Combat is built around team composition, tactical card choices, status effects, and character synergy — always connected to the wider survival layer.

- ◆ Hero roles and compositions create tactical depth.
- ◆ Card fights preserve or cost vital momentum.
- ◆ Winning battles protects resources and future options.

— THE HEART OF THE GAME

Moving base. Progression hub. Survival anchor.

Vehicle upgrades improve survivability, mobility, and long-term efficiency — shaping how players approach every future route and encounter.

— THE PLAYER WE'RE BUILDING FOR

Slay the Spire's variety. Darkest Dungeon's mood. Disco Elysium's world. Banner Saga's road.

We are targeting the overlap and adjacent audiences around four proven player motivations: variety, mood, world, and journey. Combat draws from Slay the Spire and Darkest Dungeon. Mood, world, and road draw from all four. Text and story are optional — explore them as deeply, or as lightly, as you want.

PRE-PRODUCTION STATUS

Pre-production validated.

World navigation, vehicle progression, hero teams, deep tech tree, and modular caravan camp are already validated in the playable prototype. The funded phase turns these systems into production-ready Unity code, release-quality content, and a polished commercial build.

— THE TEAM BEHIND ENDLESS CARAVAN

New studio. Same hands. Shipped before.

Most of the team previously shipped games together at Hamsters Gaming — Shelter Manager and Evil Bank Manager on Steam, plus mobile hits with millions of installs. Luxarion Games is the studio; the production experience is already in the room.

CEO / Founder

Sevastian Borovskiy

Technical founder with product background. Ex-PM at Kevuru Games.

Game Designer

Mykhailo Novhorodskyi

10+ years. Producer at Hamsters Gaming. Shipped Evil Bank Manager.

— WHY $315K IS THE RIGHT ANSWER

Same game. Three production strategies.

$250K reduces content for an earlier Early Access launch. $500K adds traditional production redundancy. $315K is the focused modern path: a full commercial version built by a lean senior team with a human-led, AI-augmented production pipeline.

REDUCED

$250K

Lean Early Access

DURATION	10 months
EFFORT	— (lean team)
PRODUCTION	AI-augmented
SCOPE	60% of content

— A COMPLETE, MARKETABLE VERSION OF THE CORE VISION

Six pillars. One release-ready product.

01

Full survival road gameplay loop

The complete travel → stop → fight → upgrade → push cycle, tuned and balanced.

02

Tactical card-based combat

Cards, classes, synergies, status effects — all wired into the survival layer.

03

Vehicle-centered progression

The signature moving-base system: upgrades, repairs, and equipment.

04

Team management & hero development

Recruit, assign, level, and lose the heroes that carry your run.

05

Route-based exploration

A dangerous, readable world map with branching routes and consequences.

06

Narrative framing & quests

Core story arc, the fog, the vaccine — plus polished visual identity and release-ready presentation.
